The NYSTCE pedagogical exams are designed according to the Constructivist Learning Theory. Although many teachers have studied aspects of Constructivism in their college programs, including Piaget, Bloom, Vygotsky and Gardner, the connection between these theorists is not always clarified. This book teaches you the correct approach for deconstructing the questions on the exam in order to pick the correct answer. This study guide is designed to help prospective teachers understand this theory and how it applies to learning. The strategies are easy to understand and are the key to passing these State exams. The book covers strategies for decoding the questions and outlines for writing a strong essay as well as common mistakes that teachers make when taking the exams. This time, pass the exam!

Classic Books Library presents this brand new edition of the short story, “An Occurrence at Owl Creek Bridge” (1890) by Ambrose Bierce. In this text Bierce creatively uses both structure and content to explore the concept of time, from present to past, and reflecting its transitional and illusive qualities. The story is one of Bierce’s most popular and acclaimed works, alongside “The Devil’s Dictionary” (1911). Bierce (1842-c. 1914) was an American writer, journalist and Civil War veteran associated with the realism literary movement. His writing is noted for its cynical, brooding tones and structural precision.

I have never been so happy, even when i was alive. I can see my body lying lifeless besides me. Well its a great feeling to be no longer subject to any responsibility. And very soon i will see my creator - the god. Look at these people - despondent and devastated. But i am happy today! I want to lose all the memories of what i had done to others in my life. Why? My soul asked Because i was born in the family of criminals and i was expected to follow their footsteps because lot of times this crazy life doesnt do justice to you. After four days of my leaving this world, i could see only four people (my wife, my mother and my two kids) in the house and the madness of the sorrowful was over. But in no time, my happiness turned in to despair. My five year old daughter ran in to her mother and said my prayers have been answered and there will be no killing of people as the god had just taken away the murderer from our lives. My wife cried and cried till her tears went dry. I could feel my eyes welling up with tears too. I was worried - how would i face the god and would i be able to take on the punishments for my sins.
